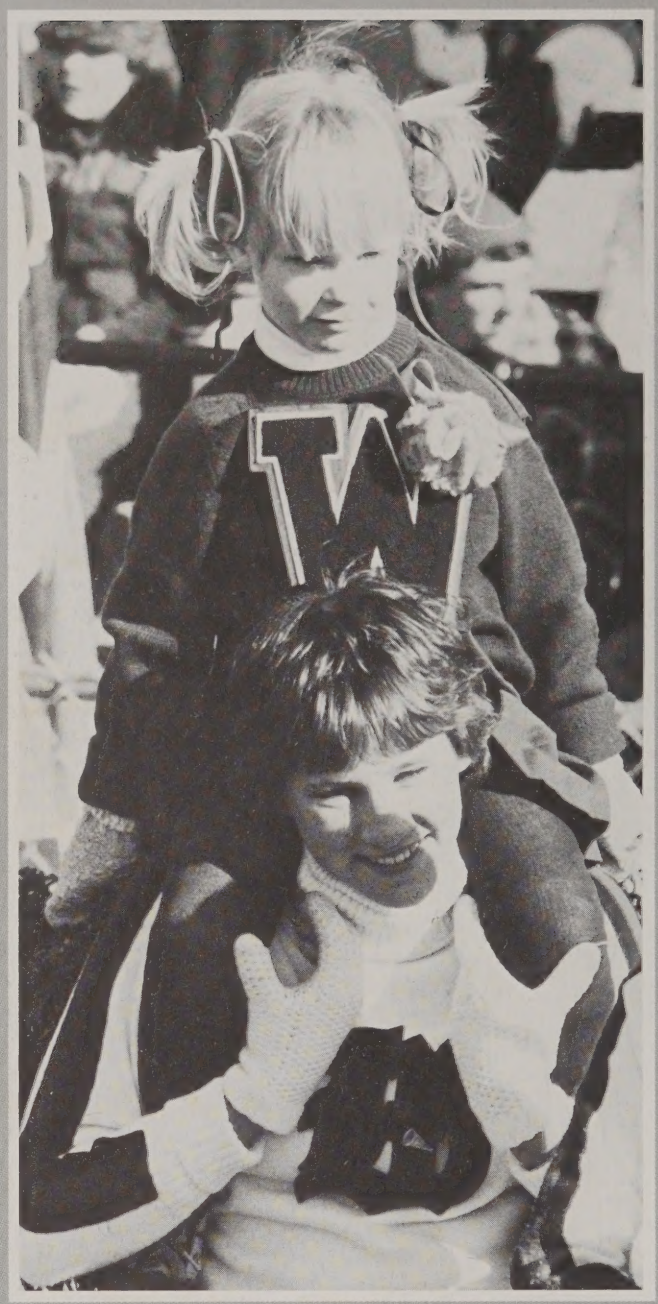
"We Have Only Just Begun"

WALPOLE HIGH SCHOOL

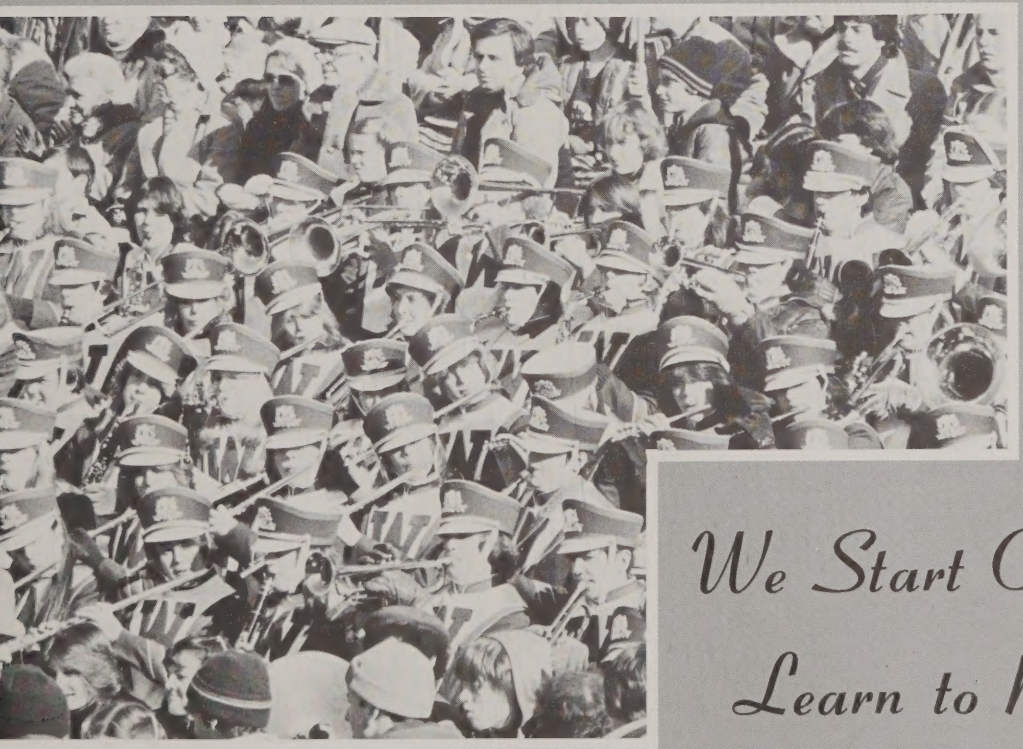
Walpole, Massachusetts 02081

Before the Rising Sun We Fly, So Many Roads to Choose . . .



At first, just a speck on the horizon, the Class of '82 loomed into view in the fall of '79, and, with some delicate maneuvering, managed to land amid the rubble and debris of a massive renovation program. There were some tense moments in the brief encounter that followed in those sophomore and junior years; periodically some test flights were taken to escape the confusing maze below and to scan the upper atmosphere for some future flight.

And then, almost without warning it seemed, the scheduled liftoff time had come. It was June, 1982. Emerging from a senior year clouded with some storms, but sprinkled with triumphs, the Class of '82 climbed aboard the waiting gondola. At the given signal, the eager and talented voyagers were sent aloft into a challenging future, a bright and beautiful sight against the changeable sky.



We Start Out Walking and

Learn to Run,

And Yes, We've Just Begun . .

ACADEMICS

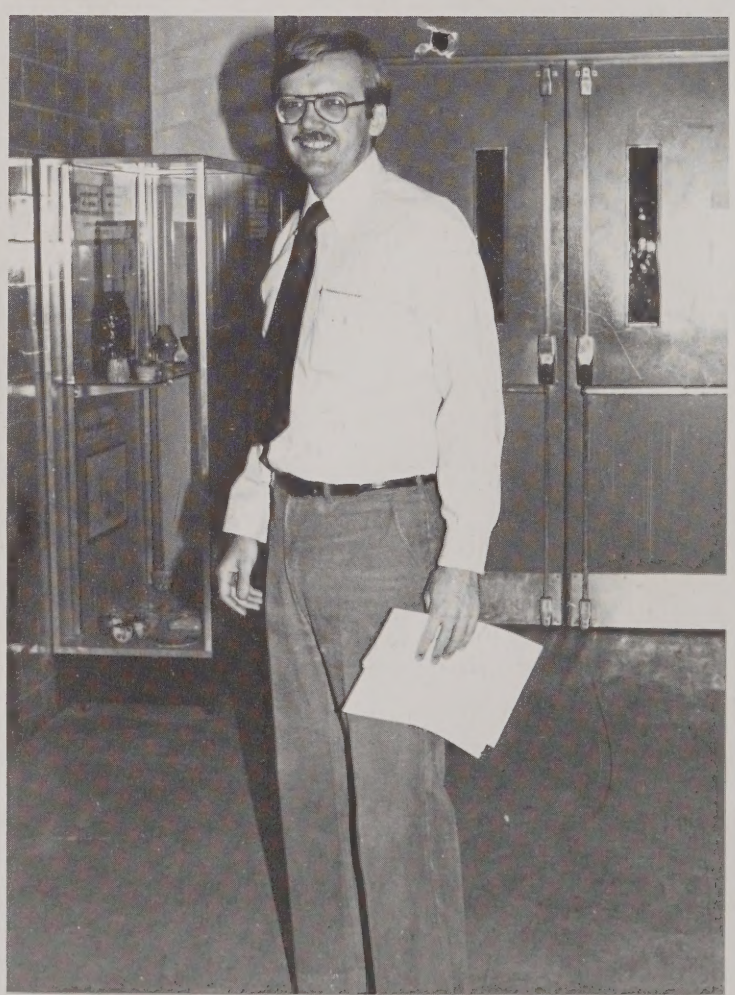
ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Lester H. Burch, Principal

Mr. Richard T. Cantrell, Assistant Principal

Joining several teachers who moved from the Junior High Schools, Mr. Richard Cantrell, former Assistant Principal of East Junior High School, served this year in that capacity at Walpole High School, with Mr. Harry Graff continuing as the other Assistant Principal. They helped administer an enrollment that grew from 900 to 1200, causing classes to overflow to Plimpton School.

Changes in the secretarial staff saw Mrs. Marjorie Upton transfer to the IBM Room and Mrs. Patricia McTighe added to the Guidance Office. In an economy move, only one secretary, Mrs. Marjorie Stuber, was assigned to the Attendance Office, but part-time help arrived in the second half of the year to ease the situation.



Mr. Harry C. Graff, Assistant Principal

Interview with the Principal . . .

Arriving at Walpole High School to start a new venture, the Class of 1982 and Principal Lester H. Burch were "the new kids on the block". As June, 1982 approached three years later, Burch talked with Gene Lavanchy about Walpole High School and its senior class.

One of Burch's firmest convictions is, "As the senior class goes, so goes the school." He feels that its actions and attitudes are carried down to the underclassmen who in turn follow the mold set by the seniors. With ninth graders attending Walpole High School for the first time since 1965, this year's senior class was called upon to provide leadership to a student body one half of which included students new to the school. "I saw leadership in this class that perhaps its members weren't confident they had. This was especially apparent when an opportunity arose to pull together to achieve a common goal. Many hard workers appeared to give it their best shot."

The third year principal has tried to instill the attitude in his students of "Always trying to be the best school in the area." Although pleased that this became a reality in many competitions this year, Burch was particularly impressed with the mature manner in which both victories and defeats were handled. Of special note, he believes, is the lasting impression left by WHS students who attend activities in other communities, frequently bringing forth praiseworthy testimonials from hosts.

He is justifiably proud of his students who are well known for various achievements, but especially grateful to those who contribute to the overall well being of the school by their day in and day out good behavior. To recognize them, Burch initiated "Student of the Month" and "Classroom Performance Awards".

One of Burch's most satisfying accomplishments this year was the establishment of the Hall of Fame for outstanding graduates of Walpole High School. Noting the potential evident in the Class of 1982, he visualizes one or more entries from their ranks at some future date. Until then he wishes them a rewarding and successful life after leaving Walpole High School.

GUIDANCE

Mrs. Patricia McTighe, Guidance Secretary

Counseling ninth graders was a new experience for the Guidance Department this year which also added two counselors to its staff — Mrs. Dolores Efthim and Mr. Thomas Loftus — to assist in the scheduling and advising of students.

The Regional College Night, the Financial Aid and Parents Information Night, and the Career Exploration Program with nearby industries continued to be valuable sources of information needed by students reaching the end of their high school careers. Because of a drastic cut in financial aid from the federal government, several seniors were allowed to start college early in order to receive Social Security benefits due to be phased out for those entering college after March.

As popular and helpful as ever, the return of a group of alumni sharing their college experiences with the Class of '82 was one of the highlights of the year.

SUPPORTIVE SERVICES

The Department of Supportive Services continued to lend its assistance to those with special problems. Tutoring was of topmost importance, as was participation in conferences throughout the year. Its facilities were available for use by other departments as needed.

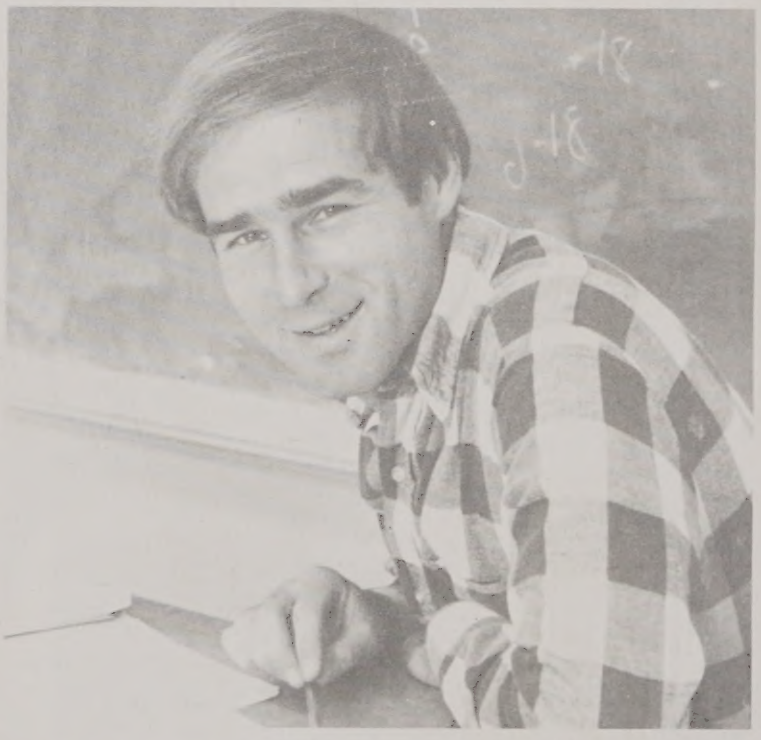
Sixteen students travel from their homes in Boston each day to attend school at Walpole High School. They are part of METCO, a voluntary program funded by the State Department of Education where urban minority children are schooled in a suburban setting. Now in its sixteenth year of the program, the Town of Walpole has helped to provide a closer understanding and cooperation between urban and suburban parents and other citizens as well as foster a positive learning experience for students.

While attending Walpole High School, METCO students participate in many extra-curricular activities involving sports, clubs, music, and community life. Many assume leadership roles. It is apparent that an intergrated education of the highest quality has been achieved.

NURSE

Mrs. Elsie Cross, Head School Nurse, has decided to retire after 18 years of service. Among her many accomplishments was the implementation of the new Health Education curriculum in the Walpole School system. Mrs. Cross' expert handling of all situations from headaches to sprained ankles will be sorely missed.

DRIVER EDUCATION



Mr. Edward Rock, Driver Education Instructor, left Walpole High School between semesters of the 1981-1982 school year. Now working in private industry, he left an enviable record of preparing hundreds of WHS students for safe driving.

MEDIA

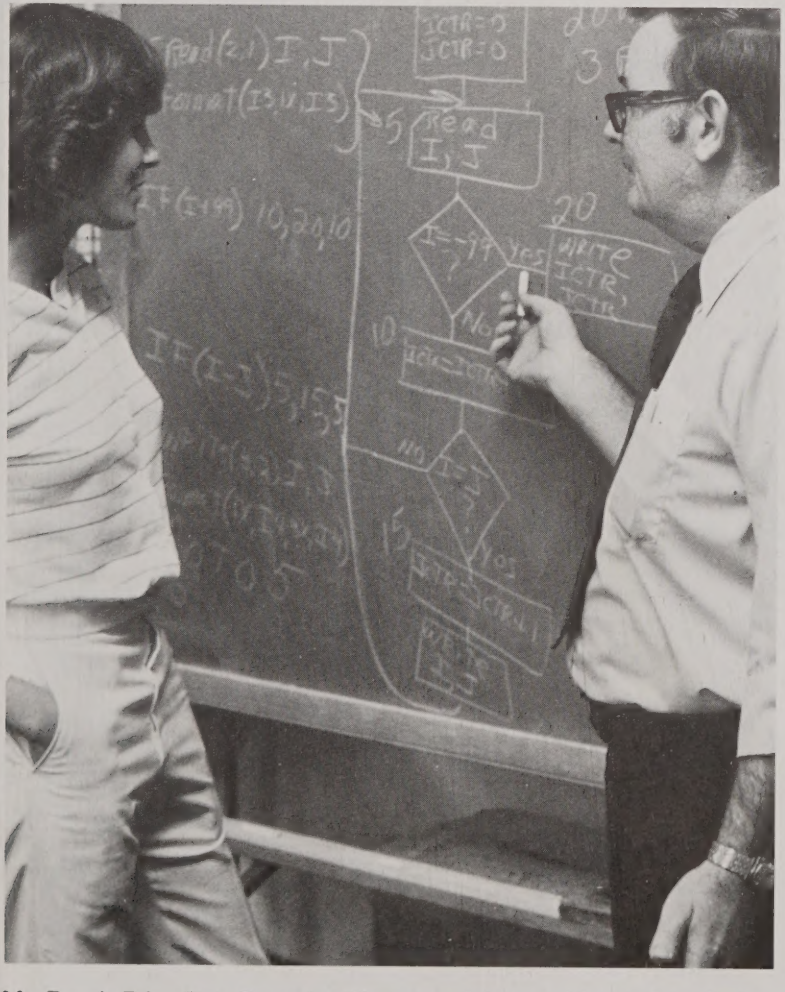
Aide Mrs. Lucina Nagle helps Gene Lavanchy with a problem.

Under the direction of Mr. Roger Kebler, the Media Center continued to be a tremendous help to students and faculty alike, providing its usual excellent service in all areas — books, films, filmstrips, recording, magazines, and other periodicals. The teachers' workroom and other facilities were an extremely valuable asset to faculty. The pleasant surroundings were always conducive to relaxation and study.

DATA PROCESSING



Mr. Francis Foley, Data Processing Director, explains a problem to Betsy Stuber.

One of the busiest places in the high school, this department performs several functions such as: maintaining attendance records, processing grades, scheduling, and conducting surveys for the high school as well as completing many other tasks for the entire school system. Active in the curriculum of the Mathematics Department, it trains students in the use of the computer through its Computer Programming course, providing a strong background for those students entering college or the business world.

Mrs. Marjorie Upton, Data Processing Secretary

CUSTODIANS

With the closing of three elementary schools in June, 1981, several changes in custodian assignments were necessary. Throughout the year, retirements and other circumstances caused additional transfers. A fine job was done by all under these difficult conditions. As the year ended, Mr. Frank Calf had the hard working staff of Bill Backoff, Danny Casborali, Steve Burke, Ray Parker, and, of course, that special person Mrs. Mary Tullos.

As busy as ever, the ceramic room remains a popular place to practice creativity. The growing talent can be observed in the many interesting objects produced throughout the year. Tucked away in the catacombs of Walpole High's subterranean region, the art classroom seldom sees the light of day except through its barely-above-ground windows. For that reason, few but those involved in art have the opportunity to witness masterpieces in the making. However, like most underground movements, the work of their creators will surface and the work of genius will be unveiled. Thus, as in the past, student artists this year have also made their mark in the world.

One activity in which students participated was the submission of designs to be considered as a possible logo for the "Friends of Music." Don Reardon took first prize in the competition with his creation of a singing bird which will become the trademark of the group. Another competition was the Martin Luther King Poster Contest. Submitted work was displayed in the cafeteria around the winning poster drawn by Maureen Baker. Once again art students did well in the Boston Globe Scholastic Art Awards with a strong representation: Laura Parsons, Anne Marie Murray, Kathy Rooney, Donald Reardon, Lisa Smith, Joanne McSweeney, Karen O'Keefe, Kerri McLaughlin, and Amy Bickford. Portfolio scholarship nominations went to Lisa Smith and Kathy Rooney.

A variety of other contests and activities kept the artists busy meeting deadlines: The Town Hall Centennial Art Exhibit Contest, with Roger Pelissier taking first prize; publicity posters for "The Curious Savage" and "Get Smart", dramas presented on the WHS stage; the Walpole Women's Club Contest on "Crime Watch"; and the Boston Envelope Contest requiring students to design envelopes with a town logo. Joanne McSweeney won first prize: 1,000 envelopes which she planned to sell! Finally, Lisa Smith was one of four finalists who shared in $1,700 offered as scholarship prize money by the Underwood Scholastic Art Exhibition. Lisa won a $100 scholarship and an honorable mention for her pencil sketch, "Kitchen Still Life."

The major activity of most art major seniors was to prepare portfolios of their work to be submitted to schools and colleges where they hoped, not only to be accepted, but to be offered scholarships as well.

The Business Department is pleased that so many students took advantage of its offerings this year, especially the typewriting and accounting courses which present skills valuable in all walks of life. Always seeking to use up-to-date equipment in its training, the more experienced typists were exposed to the word processor; the data processing students used the Math Department's microcomputers; and future secretaries improved their skills through the flexibility of the Shorthand Lab.

The Co-operative Office Experience Program, in which local businesses participate, is presently in its thirteenth year of existence and continues to be a successful learning experience for both business and college bound students seeking to gain meaningful office training while in high school.

As the continual need to teach current business practices is always present, the occasional return of graduates to share their experiences with both students and faculty is a welcome occurrence.

As the ninth grade returned to the High School, a new course, Freshman English Honors was added to its curriculum to complete the four year honors sequence. Also taught for the first time this year were: Speed Reading and Reading for Analysis. Both proved to be very successful as indicated by the tremendous growth in speed and comprehension as shown by the post tests.

In spite of changes in faculty and curriculum, electives such as Drama, Journalism, and Poetry continued to interest students. Journalism classes published a creative writing magazine, The Labyrinth, instead of a newspaper, and, as usual, also prepared The Rebel Review Page, appearing once a month in the Walpole Times. Television journalism, interviewing in particular, was explored. Field trips to the Suffolk Criminal Court emphasized court reporting. Working closely with Mr. Munoz-Bennett, METCO coordinator at Walpole High School, Journalism III classes produced a 16 page booklet commemorating the 15th Anniversary of METCO in the Walpole School System.

Three Journalism students: Paul Clerici, Rick Dederer, and Roger Pelissier received awards in the Sacks Theatre Chain photography contest. Their certificates were presented at a special Boston showing of the Academy Award winning film "Chariots of Fire". Walpole Journalism students, the largest invited delegation present, were also able to view the winning photographs on display in the lobby.

Drama students had an opportunity to use their skills in plays directed by Mr. Burch. Bringing honors to the poetry course, Lisa Hanson's poetry was published in the National Anthology of High School Poetry.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

With a variety of languages taught-French, Spanish, Latin, and German—the Foreign Language Department offers many diversified activities during the year. The French Club again engaged in the exchange visit between students from Walpole and Saint Cloud, France, while the Spanish Club sponsored the Annual Bazaar to help defray costs of their trip to Spain. In May, the Latin Club's Roman Banquet was a fitting conclusion to a very active year.

Walpole High School served as a testing center for the National Spanish Exam given in April and the National French Exam given in March. Winners of Awards were:

SPANISH

Paul Rooney, Level III, 4th in Massachusetts
Joanna Capparella, Level IV, 2nd in Massachusetts
Arthur Thomas, Level IV, 6th in Massachusetts
Betsy Stuber, Level V, 8th in Massachusetts
Lucia Gelo, Level I (native category), Highest in Massachusetts

FRENCH

Receiving Certificates of Merit for their high performance in the National French Exam were:

Level II - Dawn Alexander, David Calusdian, Kelly Garrigan, Lawson Griffiths, Jennifer Larson, Martin Martel, Erica Murphy, Alice Paquette, Barbara Raker, Dana Shultz, Maura Sullivan, Crystal Swank.
Level III - Julia Bradley, Stephanie Capparella, Marianne Duffy, Laura Foley, Dana Maenhout, Mary Ryan, Sarah Schoppe
Level IV - Thomas Cappalletti, Susan d'Entremont, Lucio DiMartino, Pamela Flanagan, Elaine Kiessling, Kathy Rooney, Aimeé Storin, Linda Vacietis
Level V - Vida Simonaitis, Lisa Traeger

Also receiving awards for Outstanding Achievement in French were: Thomas Cibotti, John Collins, Philip DiMascio, Scott Fisher, Richard Jordan, Kimberly McAveeney, Lauren Amirault, Nancy Cibotti, Tracy Goulart, Shannon Lee, Mary Rosano, Robert Conrad, Susan Cotter, Lauri Johnson, Jennifer Larson, Janice Mahoney, and Brian Rowe.

LATIN

HOME ECONOMICS

Now completely at home their second year in the new surroundings created by the renovation, the Home Economics Department continued to improve its courses by adding more interesting projects. Special meals, including holiday dinners and a barbecue, were prepared by foods classes, who usually invited a few guests to share these delicious accomplishments.

The sewing classes proudly displayed their original work at fashion presentations throughout the year.

Child Development Lab

As usual, the Child Development Lab provided the opportunity for students to help at local nursery schools, elementary schools, day care centers, and kindergartens. Shown to the left are Sally Spicer and Ann Marie Gentili during one of their Head Start sessions held at the United Church in Walpole Center.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Mr. John Neubauer, Department Chairman, Semester II

The Industrial Arts Department enjoyed an increase in student enrollment this year due to the return of several students from the Tri-County Regional School and the growing interest of girls in their offerings — electronics, drafting, metals, graphic communications, and woodworking.

Mr. William Casbarra, Department Chairman for the past several years, left in mid-year to work in private industry. He was succeeded by Mr. John Neubauer, previously a graphic arts teacher in the department.

Through a federal grant, the metals program purchased a Vertical Milling Machine which greatly increased the capabilities of the shop. Many projects were built, ranging from clocks to silk screened shirts. These were on display at various occasions during the year.

MATHEMATICS

Although no new courses were formally introduced this year in the Mathematics Department, since teachers had participated in a programming course to become familiar with the equipment, more classes were presented some fundamentals in programming the TRS-80 microcomputers. Next year, however, formal courses in the BASIC language will be offered.

Bill Newhall, student in charge of the Computer Room, not only aided other high school students in learning to program and use the hardware, but also brought microcomputers to the middle schools to work with students there occasionally.

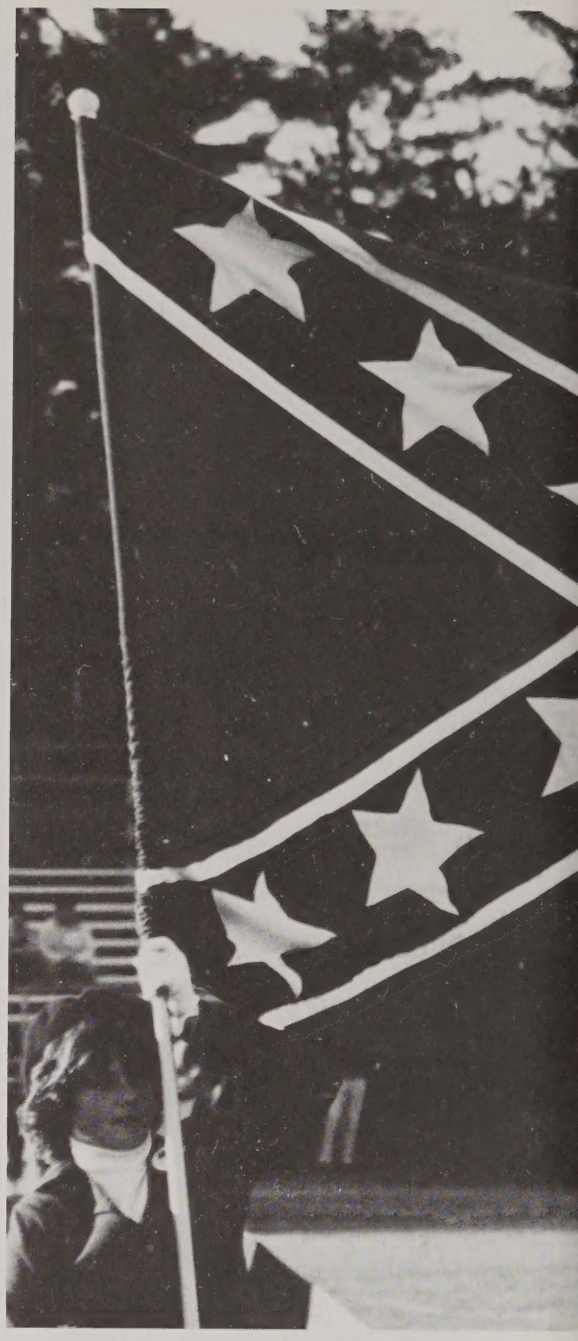
MUSIC



Due in part to the addition of the ninth grade, the marching band, orchestra, and chorus nearly doubled in size over last year.

The marching band, led by Mr. Gaston Malloy and Student Directors Missy Salzberg and Jeff Lilly, brought its usual color and enthusiasm to the football season, right up to the Superbowl thriller with Brockton. They also marched in the Village Fair and Memorial Day parades. In the winter they practiced Tchkaikovsky's "1812 Overture" for competition.

As always, the stage band was present at school concerts, but played at several benefits as well — the "Springthing" on March 13, at the King Philip Ballroom in Wrentham, sponsored by the Friends of Music Arthur E. Willey Scholarship Fund to benefit students continuing their study of music at the collegiate level, and a performance at Walpole's new restaurant, Bernardi's, in April to benefit Project Face.

The orchestra, rehearsing after school, became talented enough to play many difficult pieces at concerts and also participate in String Night at the end of June. The Ragtime Band, 12 members in all, was selected by the Massachusetts Music Educators Association to perform at the All-State convention at the University of Lowell in March. Over five years old, it is the only known high school ragtime ensemble in New England, led by its founder Michael Falker. Besides preparing a tape for submission to the All Eastern Board for judging, the ragtime band also performed at several outside locations for various functions.

Under the direction of Mrs. Catherine Connor-Moen, the chorus mastered Mendelshonn's Hallejuia Chorus and one of Brahms' Requiems as well as less strenuous selections. The Madrigal Singers (selected after auditions) sang at various concerts including Pops Night in May when they performed an original piece written especially for them by junior Sean Jackson. Perhaps the highpoint of the season was their appearance at the wedding of their director, Ms. Catherine Connor to Mr. Philip Moen.

In state music competition, Walpole students fared very well. To the All-State Music Conference Festival, double last year's representation, the following were selected: Orchestra: Elinor Conroy, Beth Varney, David Sprague; Jazz Band: Jeff Hoefler. Chosen for SMSBA, the Southeastern Massachusetts School Bandmasters' Association, were: Band: Cory Mann, Jennifer Larson; Orchestra: Elinor Conroy, Bonnie Fitzgerald, Carol Collins, David Sprague, Jennifer Valja, Beth Varney, Vida Simonaitis, and Kristin Seymour; Chorus: Ann Gentili, Sally Spicer, Marianne Duffy, Kristi Pike, Mary Alice Lapatti, Lisa Colageo, Bruce VanAlstyne, Scott Patterson, and Charles Saba.

In addition to the leadership of Department Chairman, Mrs. Susan Evans, students helping to keep up the year's momentum were: President, Elinor Conroy; Vice-President Stephen Foley; Secretary Sean Jackson; Activities Director, Carol Collins; Treasurers Dave Sprague (Band) and Beth Varney (Chorus). A Band Tour to Maine in May was greatly enjoyed by all as the finale to a very busy and rewarding year.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Kerri O'Neal and Kathy O'Malley — golf anyone?

Compatible with the well-trained mind is the well-trained body. For that reason, Walpole High School's Physical Education Department emphasizes and offers a variety of physical activities that build bodies in many ways. There are the usual sports such as soccer, softball, basketball, golf, and tennis for starters. The more rugged type opt for a series of challenges in the great out-of-doors — in all kinds of weather! Those with an affinity to rob the rich to feed the poor pull strings in archery.

For those turned off by the more competitive sports and gruelling exercises, there are routines designed for gracious living and graceful rhythm: social dancing and aerobic maneuvers.

An admirable asset to the department, always willing to help keep the program running smoothly are those upperclassmen who volunteer to assist in the freshmen and sophomore classes.

SCIENCE

The Science Department is in the second year of its new enlarged facilities and modern equipment, which have allowed continuous improvement in the caliber of the curriculum. Solar house projects, as part of the IET class, and numerous physics and chemistry projects kept students busy in the labs while the Oceanography class went on its annual field trip to Cape Cod.

The environmental science classes completed the third successful year of an alternative energy conservation project. A sandbag dike was placed in the Neponset River as part of the hydroelectric dam project which was initiated last year in cooperation with the Boston Edison Co. Delivery was made of the hydroelectric turbine and generator. The electrical transformer, which will make the project operable by converting high voltage electricity before it reaches the high school, has also been put in place. The project is expected to be operational by the fall of 1982, when the high school will receive its first electricity from the Neponset River.

Special awards for achievement in all classes were distributed under the auspices of the National Merit Science Awards Committee. Student achievement in the National ACS Exam, given as a chemistry final exam, continues to be noticeably above the national average for a similar population.

The Social Studies Department kept students informed about the past and present happenings at home and abroad. "Close Up", a week in Washington, D. C., was again an exciting experience for Walpole students, accompanied by Miss Geoghegan. In addition to meeting peers from other states, they were acquainted with the day to day workings of the federal government.

Walpole participated in the Model United Nations with other high schools who are members of TECH. To gain an understanding of how other countries behave on the international scene, students visited the Naval War College in Newport, Rhode Island.

Since the formal award ceremony at the cheering competition was omitted due to a fire alarm, the football squad members were happy to receive the trophy at their banquet in March.

The Rebel Cheerleaders finally made Number 1!

Practice makes perfect.

Walpole's 1982-82 cheerleaders had an outstanding year despite the initial disappointment of many over the elimination of the hockey and the JV squads. Both the football and basketball squads attended camp at Plymouth State College in New Hampshire to learn new skills and cheers. The cheerleaders returned home carrying the camp "Spirit" Stick which is awarded to the team with the most spirit.

After cheering a winning football season and weeks of preparation, the football cheerleaders captured first place in the Bay State League Cheerleading Competition, a first for Walpole. Their success was even more thrilling when the girls were able to cheer the boys to victory at the Super Bowl game. The season was climaxed with a Super Bowl banquet for both the football team and the cheerleaders where they were awarded their trophy and jackets.

The basketball cheerleaders did an admirable job cheering for the boys and their spirit remained high throughout a disappointing season for the basketball team.

Last, but not least, a cheerleading "wind-up" for the girls of both football and basketball was held at the Golden Steer. Mrs. Crown roasted each cheerleader as the finale to a very long and satisfying year.

Captains Lisa Whittier, Nancy Butters and Michelle Desprez showed outstanding leadership throughout the successful season.

FOOTBALL

All-Star tri-captain Paul Finn shows his blocking style.

The year 1981 proved to be most productive for the Walpole Rebels football team. A perennial powerhouse year after year, the Rebels lived up to their reputation closing out the '81 campaign undefeated and, of course, winning the Division I Super Bowl. Head Coach John Lee and his talented assistant coaches — Paul Tuccelli, Barry Greener, Mike Connolly, Phil Bergamo, and Dan McNulty — entered 1981 with reservations, but soon the abundance of Walpole talent began to set down opponent after opponent.

When the Rebels met cross-town rival Norwood on October 24, everyone knew the winner would waltz to the Super Bowl. After a Mustang touchdown late in the game, giving them a 7-6 lead, Division I player of the year, Ken Moriarty, led the Rebels up the field in a professional manner that won him the praise of all who watched. With but 37 seconds remaining in the game, Moriarty fired a pass to Mark Collins on the sideline pattern. Collins leaped over two defenders, fell forward, and managed to hang onto the ball for the winning touchdown. For Collins it was his second touchdown of the game, winning him the Butch Songin Player of the Game award, and giving Walpole a thrilling 14-7 victory.

The Rebels won easily throughout the rest of the schedule en route to the Super Bowl. After the Thanksgiving Day victory over Framingham North, it was time to prepare for Brockton. Defensive Coach Paul Tucelli received high praise from his players during the season, and his outstanding contribution was evident as Walpole shut down the mighty Boxers, 24-13. Ken Moriarty was named the Super Bowl M.V.P. and Mike MacKay took the honors for Defensive Player of the Game. The victory over Brockton in the blinding snow proved Walpole's outstanding ability to overcome pressure under any conditions, showing sportsmanship and class in victory. A Bay State League Championship, a Division Super Bowl title, and the praise and admiration of fans, not only in Walpole, but throughout the state, were all well-deserved outcomes of the season.

All great teams have great players. This championship team was graced with a bundle of them. First, the tri-captains Ken Moriarty, Mike MacKay, and Paul Finn showed outstanding leadership during 1981, and were all recognized by the league as All-Stars, as were Paul DiPillo, Eric Bradley, and Mark Collins. Those six were also honored as Daily Transcript All Scholastics, while Mike Farinacci was selected as Sophomore of the Year. Moriarty, MacKay, and DiPillo were honored in both the Boston Globe and the Herald American as All Scholastics. That fore-mentioned trio along with Bradley were also honored by the Patriot Ledger.

Walpole takes great pride in its football program, and the 1981 Rebels will always be remembered as a squad with guts and determination. Hopefully, the coaching staff will be able to keep the winning atmosphere intact for the future. With players as talented and determined as the 1981 club, this should be a task easily fulfilled.

*No doubt who won this game!

Over a seven year period, the 1981 season was the fifth time the Porkers failed to bring home the bacon. Said Coach Brainard, "We probably have the best tournament record of anyone, but we have nothing to show for it."

Capturing the Bay State League title for the fourth consecutive year, the Porkers were full of optimism as they approached the Eastern Massachusetts Field Hockey Tournament. Their confidence boosted even more by a win over Barstable in Round One, they eagerly looked forward to Round Two with their arch rivals, the Mustangs. Walpole took an early lead, but it soon became a tie game. During the second half, Walpole took the lead again, but with one minute of playing time left, Norwood once more created a tie, sending the game into a 10-minute sudden death overtime, at the end of which the game was still tied. In an exciting additional sudden death finish, Walpole was victorious.

In Third Round action against Bishop Stang of Dartmouth, the climax came 5 minutes into another second 10-minute overtime when the Bishop Stang forward took a centering pass and whipped it by the Rebel's goalie to end the game (3-2). Commenting on the finale, Coach Brainard said, "Stang made a nice rush and a couple of defenders simply missed the ball. I don't think it was a mental mistake nor players loafing. It simply was a case of them making a nice play and us missing the interception."

Though they missed the big trophy, the Porkers had a sterling seasonal record that is most impressive. Said Coach Brainard, "the kids have nothing to be ashamed of. They had another great season." The Rebels outscored their opponents 66-6, giving them a season record of 16-0-2. Individual players received special recognition: Bay State League All Stars — Jody Silvestro, Ellen Ridley, Carrie Cento; Patriot Ledger All Scholastics — Jody Silvestro, Carrie Cento; Daily Transcript All Stars — Jody Silvestro, Ellen Ridley, Carrie Cento, Betsy Stuber, Kate Dumphy; Daily Transcript Unsung Hero — B. Walpole High School's Cross Country team posted one of its best campaigns in years, closing out the 1981 season with a solid 6-3 mark. Co-captains Mark Sokoloski and Kevin Keefe led the team with excellent performances all season. In the State Conference Meet, Walpole's top finishers were Darryl Connolly, Toby Miller, and Steve Foley.

Since the JV squad finished the season undefeated and placed first in the conference meet, it is apparent that Coach Bill Casbarra (who left Walpole High in January) created an enviable legacy that will present an interesting challenge for a new coach.

BOYS' SOCCER

The Soccer Rebels continued their steady improvement by more than doubling their point total (17) from a year ago (8). In the second year of Coach Delaney's rebuilding program, the Rebels were a feared Bay State League opponent because of their tight defense and aggressive style of play.

Defending State Champion Wellesley found this to be true, as they were fortunate to escape from Walpole with a 1-1 tie, with the tying goal coming with just 17 seconds left. Although at the time it was a disappointment, it was an indication that the Rebels, in two short years, have come from the doormat of the league to a team to be reckoned with, placing two players on the BSL All Star Team — Tom Brady and Joe Crehan.

It was Coach Delaney's intention that Walpole Soccer would build a winner in three years. With 9 returning lettermen, led by Co-captains Tom Brady and Joe Crehan, 1982-83 could be the year of the Soccer Rebels.

GOLF

"It was the toughest course I have ever seen. The rough must have been a foot long and there was water all over the place." That was Coach Jim Lind's comment about the Segregansett CC course in Taunton where Walpole High's golf team finished fourth in the state tournament on June 14, 1982.

Speaking of his team's performance, Lind felt that his boys "played exceptionally well." This was very satisfying as most of them had not played since they finished their season in the fall. That gave some of their competition (who had recently finished in the spring) a decided edge, although Lind felt his team "did not appear to be rusty." Unfortunately, Co-Captain Pat Geehan, a senior whose game had "really been on the past month", according to Lind, couldn't compete because of a job conflict.

In the state tourney, Walpole (with a season's 6-2 record) did better than some of the teams that beat them in league competition in the fall. They edged out Needham, league champs holding an 8-0 record. They also finished better than Wellesley, which had tied Walpole and Milton (all 6-2) for second place in the Bay State League. The driving edge for Walpole was senior Co-Captain Dan Fitzgerald, BSL All Star, whose 83 was the 8th best score in the tournament. Following him were Dave Jordan with an 85, Roy Ramsdell with an 86, and Jeff Crisileo with a 92. The team ended the season with a 346 in the tournament.

Pat seems satisfied by that drive.

GIRLS' SOCCER

This was the first year that Walpole competed on a varsity level in girls' soccer. Coach Bill Tompkins had to battle inexperience and a tough league, which proved to be a rough initiation. The girls finished at 1-12-1, but showed consistent improvement as the season wore on. Senior Jeanette Zarba, the captain, provided the strong leadership.

The following players were selected for awards: Most Valuable Player, Donna McCarthy (Junior); Most Improved Player, Ann Reilly (Senior); Co-Dedication awards, Seniors Ann Burke and Linda DiGiacomo. Other Seniors receiving varsity letters were Kim Charlot, Betsy Johnson, Chris DeRose, and Debbie Couture.

Under new Head Coach Ed Kirraine, Walpole's Hockey Team entered 1981 with high expectations. They were not disappointed as The Rebels closed out the campaign at a 15-4-1 mark, earning third place in the Bay State League (two points out of first place) and qualifying for the MIAA State Tournament. Despite a 6 - 1 loss to Danvers in the first round of the tournament, this season's team will be remembered as the team with the "never say die" attitude.

After a slow start, Walpole won 13 of its last 14 games. This pace was set by the line of Bill Meehan, Paul Lestan, and Scott Upton. The trio combined for a total of 126 points, 52 goals, and 74 assists for the year. Lestan led the league in scoring with 20 goals, coupled with 37 assists for a total of 57 points and was chosen as a Bay State League All Star. Sophomore sensation Brian McCologan was also selected as a BSL All Star — he played outstanding defense all season, while chipping in with 18 points offensively. Chosen as Player All Stars were: Paul Lestan, Brian McCologan, Bill Meehan, and Scott Upton.

Captain Upton, along with Assistant Captains Paul Lestan and Leigh Walker, skated Walpole down the stretch, providing essential leadership to keep the team motivated. All the players praised Coach Kirrane as well as his Assistant Mike Ewanouski and J.V. Coach Lee Delaney for their extraordinary dedication to the hockey program.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The Girls' Basketball team finished at 15-3 this season, good enough for second place in the Bay State League and a post-season tournament berth. Led by senior Tri-Captains Betsy Stuber, Anne Marie McGrail, and Carrie Cento, Walpole played tough, consistent basketball throughout the season. The Rebels lost once to Braintree and twice to B.S.L. Powerhouse Needham (18-0). During tournament play, Coach Sue Brainard's squad showed that they belonged, defeating their first round opponents, Somerset, 63-54. However, Walpole ran into hard luck. Playing undefeated Westwood on their home court would be no easy task. The Rebels played well throughout the game, but lost it in the final stanza, 54-39, a game which was much closer than the final score indicated.

This year's team had every reason to be proud of itself. Anne Marie McGrail and Betsy Stuber were selected as B.S.L. All-Stars. Chosen as Daily Transcript All-Stars were Nancy Cibotti, Carrie Cento, Anne Marie McGrail, and Betsy Stuber. Betsy was also chosen for the Patriot Ledger All-Scholastic team. Elinor Conroy proved to be an inspiration for the team. Although seeing limited action, this senior was a leader and helped the team get up mentally for the games. Coach Brainard has a bright future with a host of talented underclassmen, with enough confidence to believe she can match, if not better, this year's record.

The 1981-82 season proved to be a tough one for the Walpole Rebel matmen as they were clobbered by injuries and inexperience to close out the year at a 4-13 mark. The beleagured Rebels managed to chalk up victories over Milton, Natick, and winless Braintree to post a 3-6 BSL record, but fell victim by large tallies to the league iron of Norwood and Dedham, giving Coach Barry Greener one of his most disappointing seasons in years.

Despite the lack of victories, this squad — which Greener described as "hard workers" — did provide some bright spots. Co-captain Sean Gray had an outstanding season, finishing with a 13-3-1 mark; teammate Captain Mike MacKay posted a 21-1 personal mark. MacKay also triumphed in the season finale, capturing the District Tournament Heavyweight Championship.

As seniors Sean Gray, Mike MacKay, Dana Stearns, Jim Ryan, Scott Young, Bill McInerny, Dave Metayer, Joe Todd, and Tom Stewart leave, elected co-captains Rick MacDonald and Brian Connor, juniors who have impressed Coach Greener with their competitive wrestling style, will be expected to spark the 82-83 Rebel attack, and hopefully move next year's team up in the BSL standing.

During another record-breaking season, the Walpole High School Girls' Gymnastic team managed to end up second in the Bay State League. On the way toward this feat, the girls broke their school record with a score of 117.05.

The high point of the season was the Natick meet. These tough opponents had defeated Walpole for the past two consecutive years, but this year the victory was Walpole's. The Rebels mastered Natick by a slim 3.1 points, winning what was considered to be their most challenging meet. In this triumph, Dianne McKay placed first on the uneven parallel bars and balance beam, finishing second all around. Andrea D'Amadio had a solid 7.6 to follow up Dianne's 8.0 as Walpole overcame the other team.

Dianne ended the season sixth in the state on the uneven parallel bars, and became a Bay State League All-Star. She also set a new school record on the unevens, an 8.35.

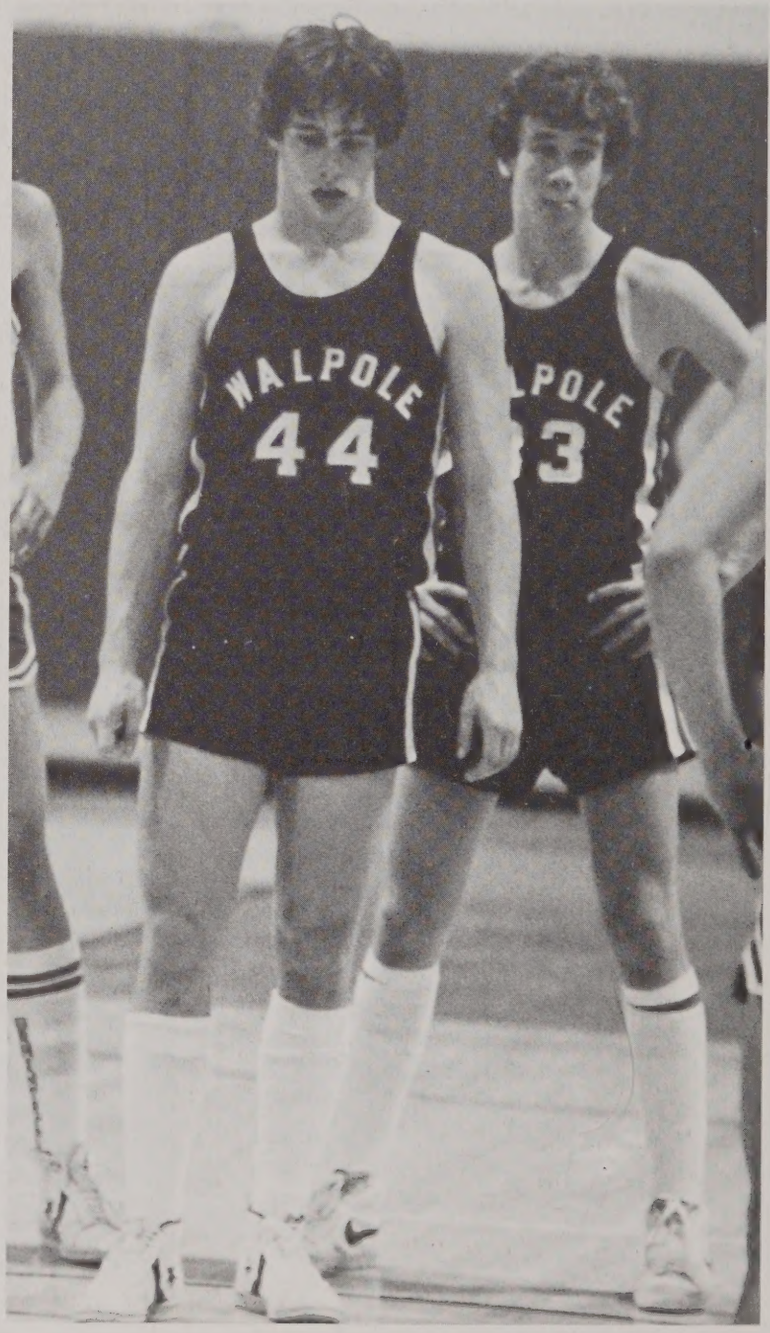
Scotty and Dave are set to rebound for the Rebels.

The 1981 Boys' basketball team fell on some tough times this past season, closing out with a 2-16 mark. The Rebels were under a new system with first year head coach Dick Sizer at the helm. Along with assistants Dan Whitham, JV coach Bill Tompkins, and freshmen coach Jim Erker, a new style of basketball was introduced to the Walpole boys. Led by Bay State League All-Star Bob Karpowicz, Walpole struggled but showed guts and determination while being out-sized by opponents every game.

Sizer will be working with a determined group next year as Walpole's JV's posted a 10-8 mark, the first winning record of a Walpole basketball team on any level since the late '60's. Seniors on this years squad were Captain Bob Karpowicz, Dave Carter, Jay Bortolussi, Rich Boyce, Mark Collins and Gene Lavanchy.

As for the future, the leadership will come from elected co-captains Rich Bruno and Barry Sanborn, in what should be a complete "about face" for Rebel basketball next year.



"Rufus" Collins was a key to the Walpole attack all season long.

GIRLS' TENNIS

Ellen Ridley and Carrie Cento overcome the opposition.

Coaching the strongest Girls' Tennis Team ever to represent Walpole High School, Coach Tony Green was obviously pleased at its 14-4 league record which enabled the team to play in the Eastern Massachusetts Girls' Tennis Tournament. Even though they were eliminated by Scituate (3-2), the Scituate doubles were defeated by Ellen Ridley and Carrie Cento, 6-4, 6-4 while April Lee joined Beth Verderber to win their doubles 4-6, 6-3 6-1. "It was great to go out winning," said Greene.

Ridley and Cento were named Boston Globe All Scholastics as well as earning first place in the South District doubles. Last year they lost only four times, reaching the Eastern Massachusetts semi-finals in the individual tourney; this year they lost only once and were first in the individual tournament.

In her reserve role, April Lee was undefeated, chalking up an 11-0 record while playing doubles with either Beth Verderber, Ellen Ridley, or Simone Sliby. Commendable performances were also delivered this year by singles players League All Star Paula McFarland, Co-Captain Ann Marie McGrail, and Co-Captain Karen Nixon. Lisa Famiglietti and Simone Sliby gained second place in the South District doubles.

Coach Green is aware that he is losing valuable experience in Cento, Lee, McGrail, Nixon, and Ridley, but with an undefeated (18-0) JV squad ready to join the superb nucleus already in place, he has good reason to look forward to an outstanding 1983 season.

April Lee shows her usual determination.

BASEBALL

Substitute "horsehide" for "pigskin" and "baselines" for "yardlines"; then add the super stars from the super champs, Moriarty and DiPillo, and the diamond sparkled with the same lustre that gave John Lee his coveted "Superbowl" cup. Though the cup eluded coach Bill Tompkins, the sparkle was certainly there. In addition to this 3-0 pitching, and his 1.03 ERA, DiPillo hit .480 with 27 runs scored, six doubles, two triples, three homeruns, 10 stolen bases and 17 runs batted in. Moriarty, on the other hand, slugged out four home runs, drove in 29 runs, hit .368, and stole 11 bases.

Other .300 plus averages were John Griffin (.315), Billy Morgan (.301), Alan Fish (.307) — as a DH, and Rich Stanton (.307). Stanton had a 14-game hitting streak at the end of the year, second only to DiPillo's 16-game streak earlier in the season. The end result was a 10-8 season's record for the team.

Ken Morarity was named first baseman on the Bay State League All Star Baseball Team, the only Rebel player chosen. The team's most valuable player was Paul DiPillo; receiving the Sportsman Award was Paul Rockwood.

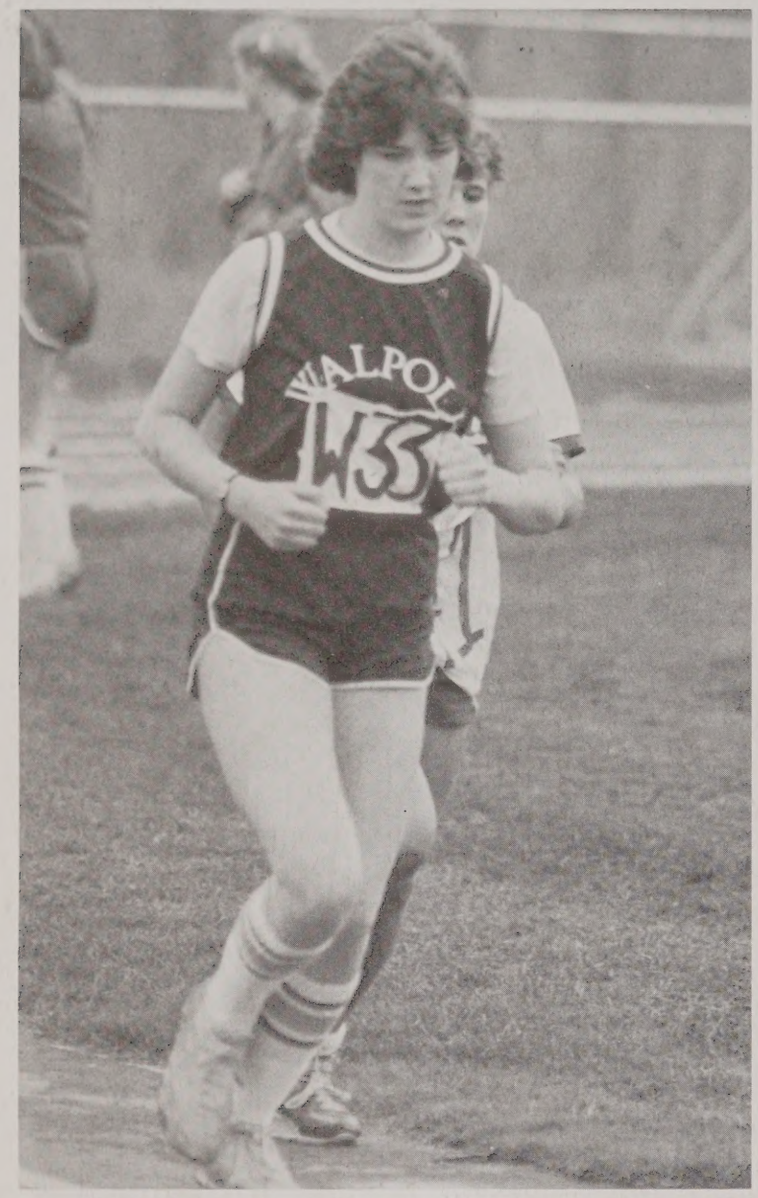
GIRLS' TRACK



Co-Captain Mary Ryan drudging through the mile.

Closing their 2-7 season by losing the final track meet of the year (82-36) to Natick, it was, despite the record, a productive period for the girls under first-year coach Elaine Fink. The season was encouraging because the girls had won twice, having gone scoreless for the past three years.

In the Conference Meet, individual accomplishments added bright spots to the team's record. Maureen Baker was first in the shot put; Lynn Eldridge fourth in the hurdles; Sharon McCormack fifth in the high jump; and Ann Marie Weber, fifth in the discus. Lynn Eldridge also placed fifth in the State Meet. Girls who set school marks this season were: Lynn Eldridge in hurdles and Dara Slagle in the discus. Other awards were: Mary Ryan, coach's award; Ruth Harwood, most improved; and Lynn Eldridge, most valuable player.

Since there were few seniors on this team and most of the scoring was done by underclassmen, a core of experience will be waiting for Coach Fink to build upon next year.

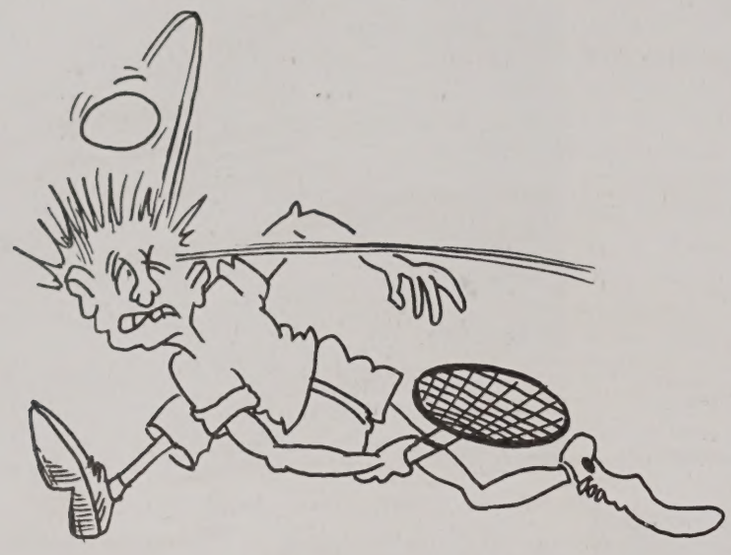
BOYS' TENNIS



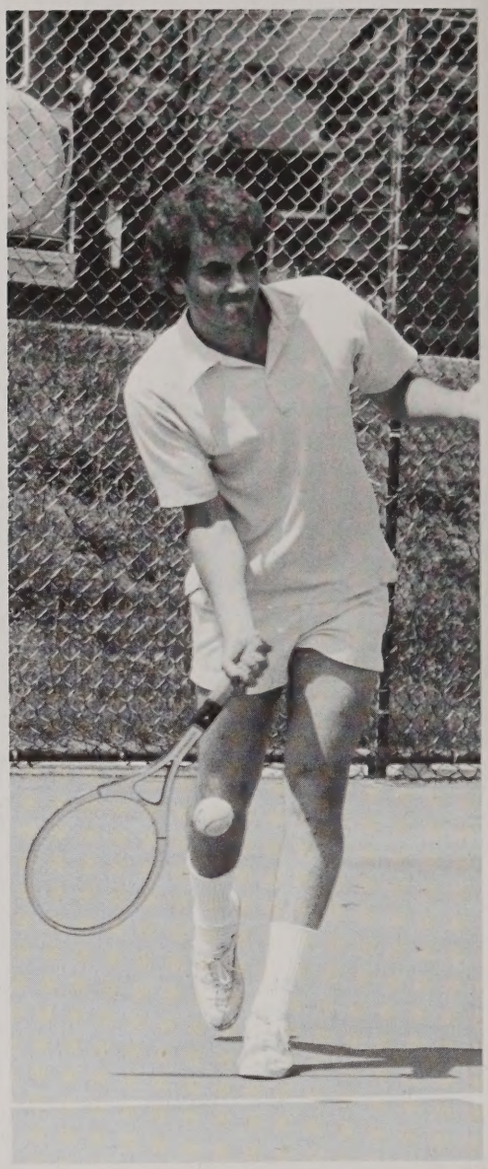
Traditionally, Walpole High School's Boys' Tennis teams have faced tough competition — despite their best efforts, one winless season has continued to follow the other. Fortunately, this year, the team, showing a steady and consistent improvement, broke their no-win record with 4 wins and 14 losses.

Co-captains Ed Connor and Gene Lavanchy were paired with Mark Goulart and Sean Kelly, respectively, in first and second doubles. Juniors Tom Cibotti and Dan McMackin played at first and second singles with freshman standout Mark Jacobsen in the third singles slot. Seniors Tim Bailey and Jim McDonagh also saw plenty of action.

The highlight of the year was a victory over Norwood when Dan McMackin won the entire match for Walpole by taking the third set in a tiebreaker to edge the Mustangs 3 - 2.

Though far from the top of the pack, the team's record was, according to Coach Morris, "the second best since 1967", which provides a hint of optimism for its future performance in the Bay State League.

"It's tough playing this game without a ball!"



With grim determination, Mark Goulart returns his opponent's serve.

SOFTBALL

Trailing 6-3 in the final inning, the never-say-die Rebels nearly pulled it off in a last-ditch effort against Foxboro, who finally won 6-5 in the Semi-final Division 2 battle, ending the season for the Rebels who had prevously beaten Oliver Ames (16-4) and Jamaica Plain (8-4) in the opening rounds of the tournament. Co-champs with Needham in the Bay State League (14-4), the loss was a bitter disappointment to the girls, members of the first Walpole High School softball team to qualify for the state tourney.

But Coach Penny Calf was more than satisfied with the girls' performance over the season. "It was a good year," she said. "I don't think back in March you would have picked us as league champs, not with five juniors, three sophomores, and only three seniors."

Those three seniors — Tri-Captains Jody Silvestro, Betsy Stuber, and Karen Yaczik — not only led the team through a consistently fine season, but Jody and Betsy were also picked as Bay State League All Stars. Daily Transcript All Scholastics were Margie Nado, Jean Collins, Suzy Betro, Jody Silvestro, and Betsy Stuber. Team awards went to Margie Nado, Best Offensive Player; Jean Collins, Tournament MVP; Jody Silvestro, Best Defensive Player; Betsy Stuber, Team MVP; and Paula Burns, 10th Player Award.

BOYS' TRACK

Scott Young prepares for a crash landing.

Though short on team trophies, individuals on the boys' track team did manage to win enough points to bring the team record one notch above last place Milton (0-9) with a 1-8 finish.

Top point-getter, Co-Captain Mike MacKay totaled 68 points, taking 10 first, five seconds, and three thirds, all throwing the shot put and discus. Next in total points was junior Ed MacKillop (67.75 points) who did most of his scoring in the 220 long jump. MacKillop led the club with 12 victories in only eight meets, which includes any part of a team relay win.

MacKay had ten individual wins, while Rusty McLauchlan had five; Barry Sanborn and Dan Plummer, four; Co-Captain Jay Bortolussi, Dave Grasso, Scott Young, Kieran O'Shaughnessy, Bruce VanAlstyne, and Bill McMullen, three each.

At the BSL conference meet 14 WHS athletes competed, four of whom placed: MacKay took second in the shot put, fourth in the discus; MacKillop third in the 200; Grasso fourth in the javelin; VanAlstyne fourth in the triple jump. Five Walpole contestants competed in the state meet with MacKillop and MacKay placing. MacKillop finished fourth in the 220 after winning his heat in trials with a time of 23.1, winning the quarter-finals with a time of 23.0 and taking third in the semi-finals with 22.9. MacKay shot put 48 feet to place fifth.

At a banquet at the end of the season, Dan Plummer, a sophomore, was presented the coach's award; Rich Boyce, a senior, the most improved award; and Ed MacKillop, a junior, the most valuable player award. Tri-Captains for the next season will be Ed MacKillop, Kieran O'Shaughnessy, and Barry Sanborn.

ORGANIZATIONS

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Seniors

Seniors: Front to Back: Treasurer Karen Nixon, Secretary Paula Sansone, Vice-President Michelle Desprez, President Kathleen O'Malley, Adviser Mr. Thomas Morris.

The usual senior activities — collecting dues, measuring for caps and gowns, planning the senior class trip, and preparing for graduation — kept the Senior Class Officers busy. As the year came to a close, all were satisfied that these careful arrangements had produced well organized occasions.

Juniors

Juniors: Secretary Lynne McCormick, President Suzanne Betro, Treasurer Kelly McGrath, Vice-President Charles Zarba, Adviser Mr. James Gable.

Two financially successful fundraisers were held by the junior class this year — the magazine drive in the fall and the sale of carnations on Valentine's Day. Juniors also sponsored the largest social event of the year, the Prom, held during April vacation. Because of the fundraisers and the ongoing payment of class dues, the junior class should enter its senior year financially stable, ready for the many senior activities.

Student Advisory Council

Student Advisory Council: Lynne McCormick, Susan White, Nancy Johnson, Karen McEachern, Mr. Harry Graff, Adviser.

The Student Advisory Council to the School Committee is required by Massachusetts law to meet directly with the school committee at least every other month. The students are elected at large to represent the views and opinions of the student body to the Walpole School Committee.

Student Council

The return of the ninth grade to the high school made this an interesting year for the Student Council which is now made up of representatives from four classes instead of three. Officers, along with student leaders of other organizations and groups in the school, met in the fall with Assistant Principal Mr. Harry Graff, Senior Class Adviser Thomas Morris, and Guidance Counselor Mr. Michael Kelly at the Deacon Lewis House in Walpole Center to participate in a Leadership Workshop.

Always available to assist when needed, the Student Council frequently helped with activities such as guides on Parents' Night and Classroom Performance Awards Night. They also sponsored the annual Bloodmobile in the spring.

Sophomores

Sophomores: Treasurer Pam Betro, Secretary Margaret Turco, Vice-President Tricia Butters, President Leonard Cercone, Adviser Mrs. Dolores Efthim; not photographed Ms. Mary Connolly, Adviser.

In conjunction with the freshman class officers, sophomore officers selected a company to provide class rings for the next two years. In March, they assisted the Walpole Rotary Club in the sale of tickets for the Annual Pancake Breakfast. Other fundraising activities during the year helped defray expenses of a class outing in the spring.

Freshmen

President Stephen Cunningham, Treasurer Andrea Stuber, Secretary Rena Rossi, Vice-President Christine Turco, Adviser Mr. James Erker.

Freshmen were welcomed back to the high school for the first time since 1965, bringing with them a certain enthusiasm that we had missed. Along with the officers of the sophomore class, freshmen helped select a company to furnish class rings for the classes of 1984 and 1985.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Carrie Cento, President and Master of Ceremonies for the evening, extends a cordial welcome to all.

At its annual candelight service on Tuesday, May 18, at 8:00 p.m., 33 members of the Class of 83 were welcomed into the National Honor Society. Master of Ceremonies was president Carrie Cento.

Members of the Class of 82 addressed the group on those criteria that profile the quality of student eligible for induction into the society. Dana Stearns spoke on the subject of scholarship; Barbara Mahoney defined leadership; Bob Ryan reminded members that they must translate their talent into active service; and, finally, Linda Connor spoke of the total fibre of the individual on the subject of character.

Mr. Thomas Joy, Adviser, brought a charge to the inductees which was followed by an informal social time around refreshments served in the cafeteria.

SPANISH CLUB

The annual Spanish Bazaar, a trip to Providence to see "Man of LaMoncha", and eating at a Spanish restaurant all proved to be enjoyable and interesting experiences to Spanish Club members. However, two years in the planning stage, the highlight of the year was, of course, the trip to Spain during April vacation.

Leaving from New York's Kennedy Airport, the group arrived first in Madrid, the capital of Spain. A tour of Plaza de Espana, Jose Antonio Street, the University of Madrid, the Bullring, and the Royal Palace proved to be a tourist's delight. Ample free time allowed enjoyment of the many discos and other night life experiences available in Spain. A day trip to the old Imperial City of Toledo, seemingly held together by narrow streets, added another historical adventure.

From Madrid, the group headed south to Cordoba where their sightseeing took them inside the world-famous Mezquita. Beautiful gardens were everywhere. Arriving in Sevilla, they were shown the Cathedral, Giralda Tower, Barrio of Santa Cruz, and Royal Palaces. After viewing the Alhambra in Granada, the trail led to Torremolinos, from which the students booked an excursion to Tangiers, Africa.

Exposure to these different cultures and way of life made a strong impact on the travelers. Making up the group of 23 Spanish Club members were: Maura Bracco, Diane Benson, Leslie Caplis, Edward Connor, Linda Connor, Diane Dixon, Cheryl Famiglietti, Deborah Feltquate, Karen Hughes, Tom LaCorti, Paul Lestan, Donna McAveeney, Jeff Nickerson, Kathleen O'Malley, Kerry O'Neil, Amy Parker, Natalie Parker, Michael Reynolds, Kristen Seymour, Sarah Tomm, Beth Varney, Patricia Verdone, and Susan White.

LATIN CLUB

Someone might have mistaken those spectral sheets floating around Walpole High at the end of the school year for the annual convention of seance enthusiasts — actually they were the formal attire of what the best dressed senator might have worn in the days of Rome when he attended some high class banquet. The high class banquet in this case was Mrs. Penny Calf's reasonable facsimile of the Roman Banquet — Prop. 2½ style!

About 65 WHS Latin students attended Julius Ceasar's answer to the Junior/Senior prom. There were the traditional Olympic games, followed by an auction where Barbara Mahoney and Kristin Glebus mercilessly auctioned off Latin I slaves to benevolent masters.

Those making off with the Olympic laurel wreaths were Steve McCarthy, who won both the slave race and the boys' footrace; and Cari Gable, the girls' footrace. Scott Miller, Gable, Cathy Saia, and McCarthy combined to capture the inter-class relay race.

Roman-drawn chariots provided some breathtaking moments as sheets flapped in the wind for some photo finishes. Paul Couture, Steve Hill, and Peter Mahoney took first place; Matt Pike, Scott Plummer, and Kieran O'Shaughnessy, second.

Following the exotic banquet, Mr. & Miss Rome were crowned for their most realistic costumes (accordian-pleated sheets?). Dan Plummer and Kim Kurdryk were the winners.

Thus, the banquet climaxed another active year for the Latin Club when students met once a month around some classical theme. In October new members were initiated, a scavenger hunt was enjoyed in November, a Saturnalia party in December, art lecture and film in January, an interclass volleyball game in February, and an Ides of March celebration in March. Also in March the group made its annual trip to Boston University for Classics Day.

FRENCH CLUB

Fontainbleau

Soon after the TWA Airliner from Charles DeGaulle Airport in France touched down at Logan Airport in Boston, 21 Walpole High students climbed down the platform steps — loaded with luggage and three weeks of memories collected during their stay in Saint Cloud, a suburb of Paris, France.

Their return to the United States on April 22, marked the completion of the first phase of a cultural exchange program, arranged to give students an opportunity to visit in each other's native country to experience the flavor of a foreign culture and language. In addition to viewing the many traditional tourist attractions of the area around Paris, American students had an opportunity to attend two days of classes (all in French, of course) at Lycée Florent Schmidt, a high school in Saint Cloud. Some also journeyed with host families to the French Riviera, Normandy, Brittany, and the Alps.

Inspiration for the program began three years ago when Miss Floy Miller and Miss Charlotte Cole, French teachers at Walpole High School, accompanied their French students to Paris. While on a tour of Lycée Florent Schmidt, the idea of an exchange program grew out of a meeting with two English teachers at the school, Madame Richard and Madame Roche. The plan, which matches students of similar personality and interest, was launched for the first time last year, proving to be a tremendous success and well worth repeating.

This year the following students, the entire French Club membership, enjoyed 19 days of total absorption into the French way of life: Laura Beltramini, Michelle Bessette, Thomas Cappelletti, Thomas Cibotti, Bruce Conrad, Susan d'Entremont, Donna Fay, Karen Grant, Karen Jennings, Elaine Kiessling, Mary Lodge, Kimberley McAveeney, Stephen McCarthy, Daniel McMackin, Robert McNeil, Deborah Morani, Kieran O'Shaughnessy, Kristianne Pike, Jennifer Romans, John Sullivan, and Linda Vacietis.

On Wednesday, July 7, a busload of 20 French students, escorted from New York City by Miss Cole and Miss Miller, arrived at Walpole High School. Following an emotional reunion, the Walpole families and their French guests then left, the students meeting again as a group on July 19, to enjoy a farewell picnic together.

Undoubtedly there will be many more exchange programs in the future, not only because of the cultural value, but for economic reasons as well; apart from spending money, the only expense involved is the round-trip plane ticket.

Principal Lester H. Burch congratulates Gene Lavanchy, Assistant Editor of the 1981 REBELLION newspaper and Nancy Johnson, Editor of the 1982 REBEL yearbook, upon notification of 1981 awards from the New England Scholastic Press Association.

Full of confidence after receiving their 1981 awards, the 1982 staff put forth its best efforts to turn the 1982 REBEL into an informative and exciting book. From the New England Scholastic Press Association, with its headquarters at Boston University, in competition with over 200 other high schools, the 1981 REBEL received second place in the medium size high school category, and was also awarded a Highest Achievement certificate. The Columbia Scholastic Press Association, based at Columbia University, using a point system to rate yearbooks from the entire country, placed THE REBEL in the third place category.

After a year of hard work, the Annual Publications Banquet was held on June 1, where gold pins and membership cards were awarded to those admitted to the Quill & Scroll International Honor Society for High School Journalism Students. To qualify students must rank academically in the upper third of their class and have done superior work in some phase of journalism or school publications work. Therefore, students who had worked on THE REBEL REVIEW or LABYRINTH were also eligible.

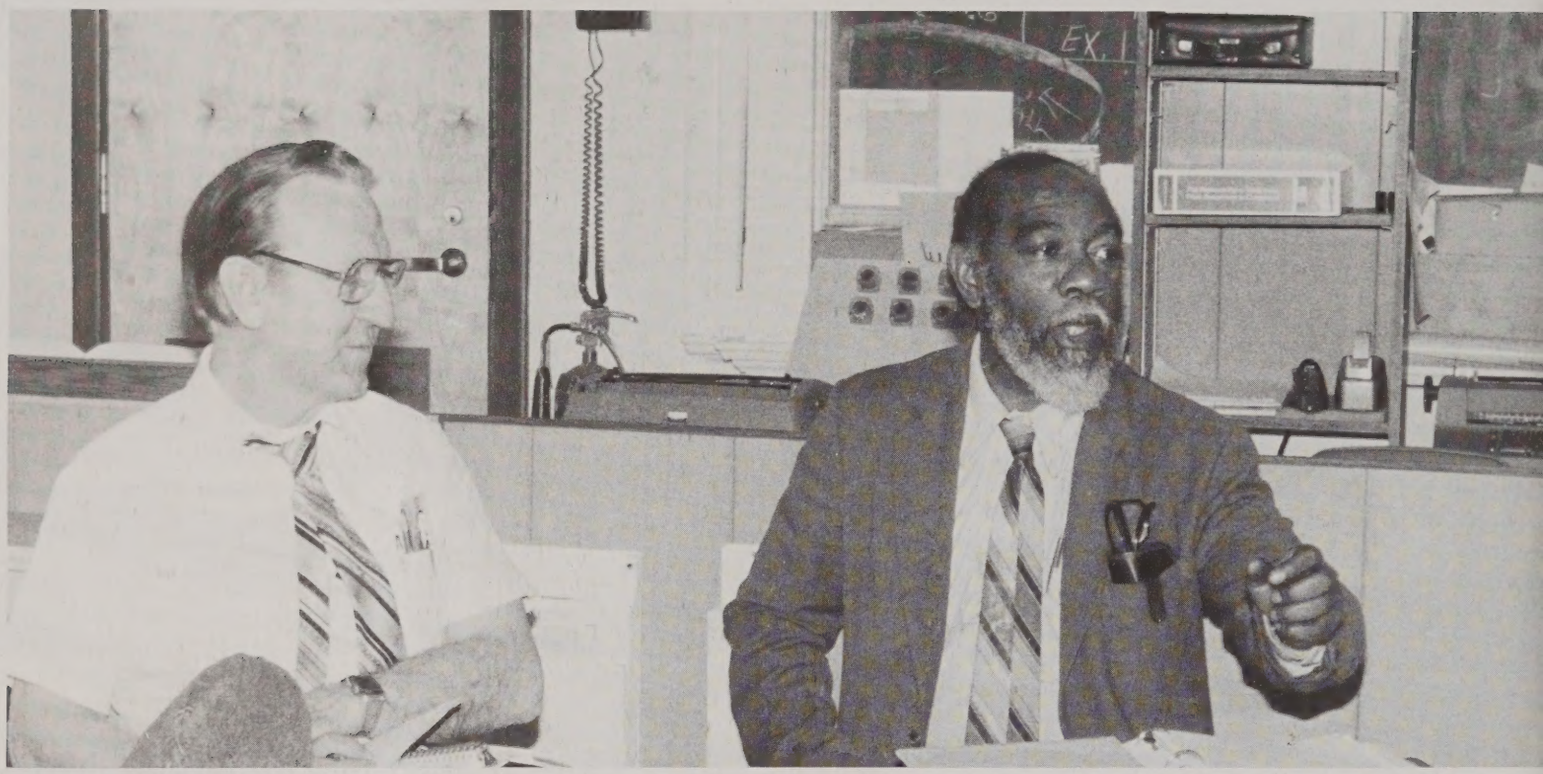
JOURNALISM III PROJECTS

Metco Commemorative Booklet



Journalism III teacher, Mr. Richard Schnorbus and Metco Coordinator for Walpole, Mr. Armand Munoz-Bennett, discuss plans for "Hand in Hand" with Journalism III students.

Mr. Armand Munoz-Bennett delivers the first copy of "Hand in Hand" to Dr. Robert Bassett, Superintendent of Schools.

To celebrate METCO's fifteenth year in the Walpole School system, Mr. Armand Munoz-Bennett, METCO coordinator in Walpole, sought a state grant to finance a magazine marking the anniversary. The grant was promised on the condition that the publication be a part of the journalism curriculum at the high school.

Mr. Richard Schnorbus, journalism instructor, accepted the opportunity as a challenge for his Journalism III students. The booklet, eventually named "Hand in Hand", was a joint effort of a variety of people: THE WALPOLE TIMES typeset the copy and headlines; Graphic Printers in Mansfield printed, collated, and folded the inside of the magazine; Mr. Jay Neubauer, head of the Industrial Arts Department at the high school, cut the cover stocks and printed it; Central Media stapled over 500 copies.

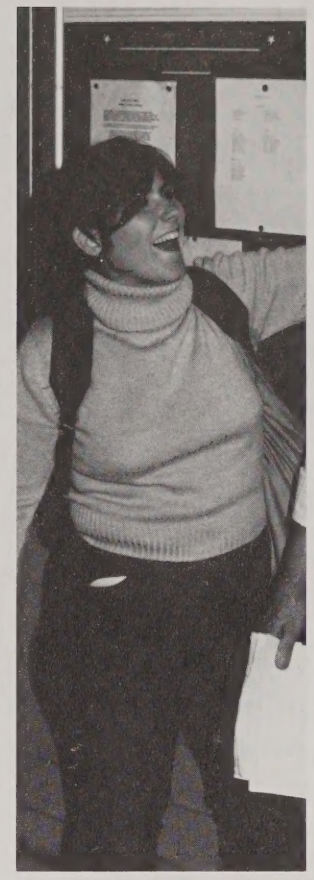
Mr. Munoz-Bennett personally presented the first copy of "Hand in Hand" to Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Robert Bassett, who had been instrumental in paving the way for the program's inception in Walpole.

Rebel Review

Due to an administrative decision to omit the REBELLION newspaper from the journalism curriculum this year, it remained for the REBEL REVIEW, a once-a-month page in THE WALPOLE TIMES, to carry the entire burden of bringing news of the high school to students and townspeople.

In its final year of publication, THE REBELLION set an enviable record, receiving several awards. From Suffolk University came a $1,000 Scholarship for "Excellence in Typography", and The New England Scholastic Press Association chose THE REBELLION as the third best high school newspaper in New England. Finally, the Quill & Scroll International Honor Society for High School Journalists ranked THE REBELLION, with 803 points, in second place on a national scale, commenting, "THE REBELLION provides a good source of valuable, interesting, information to readership — the staff should be proud of their hard work."

For the fourth consecutive year, THE REBEL REVIEW page provided samples of art work, poetry, and other student accomplishments in addition to the news articles. Editor Karen McEachern, shown to the right, supervised the printing of 7 issues. As her graduation approached, Sean Jackson, Editor for the 1982 - 1983 school year, helped set a new record by producing a May and June issue, bringing the total published in one year to 9, which surpassed the previous total in one year — 8. A sample page is shown on the far right.



Labyrinth

After having been out of existence for a number of years, the creative magazine THE LABYRINTH, with Peggy Crowley as editor, reappeared in a new format — 5½ x 4¼′ instead of 8½″ x 11″. In lieu of containing work exclusively from Mr. Richard Schnorbus' creative writing classes, the new magazine served as an outlet for journalism students as well as for students in other English classes involved in creative work.

Mr. Schnorbus and his classes worked closely with Mr. Jay Neubauer, head of the Industrial Arts Department, who helped in the mechanics of layout and in making arrangements for printing, which was eventually done by Central Media.

DRAMA CLUB

The play, "The Curious Savage", presented by the Walpole Players in the high school auditorium on December 11 and 12, 1981, at 7:30 p.m., was their first production directed by Principal Lester Burch, who stepped in to act as Drama Club Adviser due to the absence of a drama teacher at the high school this year. Heading the cast was Joanna Capparella as Ethel Savage, recently widowed and bent on squandering the ten million dollars she has inherited on various charities and other worthy programs. As a result of this abnormal, benevolent behavior, her three stepchildren conspire to have her admitted to a home for the mentally ill called "The Cloisters" in order to re-direct the flow of cash to them. The silver lining in this rather threatening cloud is that Mrs. Savage finds the home and its residents unwitting foils that help her renew her sense of values.

Other members of the Savage Family were: Titus - Scott Young; Lily Belle - Kathy Moore; Samuel - Tom Bowen. The Guests at Cloisters: Fairy May - Stefanie Capparella; Florence - Judy Reilly; Hannibal - Don Reardon; Jeffrey - Paul Brassil; Mrs. Paddy - Patricia Ryan. Dr. Emmett (Rick Dederer) and Miss Wilhemina (Jane Rosenthal) were the Staff at Cloisters. Sarah Schoppe, Student Director, had help from the following crew heads: Carolyn Bassett - Advertising and Business Manager; Kathryn Bassett - Costumes; Brian Lane - Lighting; Lynne McCormack - Make-up; Maureen Kierce - Properties; Lori Marzilli - Sets.

Students also participated in workshops which consisted of developing character, written and spontaneous dialogues, and warming up exercises; efforts were also made to build stage movements through pantomine. They were familiarized with the aspects of directing, make-up, props, lighting, costumes, sets, and advertising, and encouraged to become active in one or more of these once rehearsals for "Curious Savage" were underway. A Drama Club seal for future use in advertisements and programs was also developed.

INTERGENERATIONAL CLUB

Old Age is something just about everyone would like to avoid. Unfortunately, that often means avoiding those who fall in that category. As a result, many who grow old suffer the isolation that stems from indifference and neglect. To combat that isolation, the Intergenerational Club at WHS has taken the initiative to visit the Charwell House residents with a variety of activities and programs to show how interested and concerned this younger generation is to interact with their elder neighbors.

There were the usual seasonal festivities that provided opportunities for some happy and colorful times. The first of the season, the Halloween Party, encouraged young and old alike to uncork some rather impressive and original costumes. There were plenty of treats for everyone and a few tricks to keep the crowd on its toes. At Christmastime the WHS music department presented a Christmas Concert. Another gift package of music was supplied by Sean Jackson's group "Tempo" for a dance and social time. Later in the year, to show their appreciation for the many visits students had made to their "home", the residents and staff at Charwell prepared a dinner for their teenage friends.

One highlight of the year took place when members of the Intergenerational Club visited the Norfolk Day Center. During that time the elderly had an opportunity to share some of their teenage experiences with their visitors. Later, they were interviewed by students from the Social Studies classes. The final activity of the year was a spring barbeque when the younger and older generation mingled for their last meeting until the next school year.

RADIO STATION WSRB

Station Manager Chris Dionisio on duty

Plagued by poor broadcast variation and a still futile search for a faculty adviser, WSRB nevertheless made the year a consistent one, broadcasting every day almost all year and adding many new staff members to its ranks. Included with its now routine live broadcasts of Selectmen's meetings and football games, the station also went live from the Village Fair.

MATH TEAM

Walpole High School's Math Team competes in the Southeastern Massachusetts Mathematics League. Under the adviserships of Mr. Tony Greene, Mathematics teacher, the team acted as host for the first meet in October. In competition with 18 other schools, they ended the year in 11th place.

AVIATION CLUB

Interesting outings for the Aviation Club this year included flying twice from Norwood Airport on VFR. The group also traveled to Weymouth Naval Air Station for a tour of the base and dinner at the U.S. Naval Officers' Club. Highlights of the tour were a visit aboard a C5A Super Cargo Aircraft and an exciting lecture on the Navy's new helicopter squadron at Weymouth.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

The Industrial Arts Club, consisting of students interested in woodworking, started off the year enthusiastically with Mr. William Casbarra as Adviser. Unfortunately, when he left in midyear to pursue a career in private industry, another adviser could not be found, and, therefore, the club did not finish the season.

BOSTON CLUB

The Boston Club is an organization to help acquaint the students of Walpole High School with Boston and the surrounding areas. The club sponsored many trips, including ethnic dining, cultural events, professional and collegiate sporting events, and touring. Joan White, a volunteer parent, is the club's adviser. Officers are: President - Jeanne Boyd; Vice-President - Kim Giusti; Secretary - Sue White; Treasurer - Mary Ryan; Publicity - Lisa Cusick.

SKI CLUB

A 5:00 a.m. rising did not lessen the enthusiasm as the bus left Blackburn Hall early in the morning loaded with students, advisers, and equipment for the Ski Club's first outing of the season to Mt. Sunapee in New Hampshire. All were rewarded with a successful day of skiing, the norm for the remainder of the year.

Although its membership list fluctuated during the season, most weekends found about 40 Walpole High School students enjoying the ski slopes of New Hampshire or Vermont, arriving home about 8:00 p.m., tired, but content. Other peaks conquered were: Cannon Mountain in New Hampshire; Killington and Stowe Mountains in Vermont.

Advisers Mr. Tony Greene and Mr. Burt Caddy felt satisfied that each trip was a valuable experience for all.

Dan McMackin proves that no one is perfect!

Enjoying the skiing at Killington, Vermont are: Jeff Crisileo, Bill McMullen, Mike Lucas, Kiernan O'Shaughnessy, and Bob LePlume.

Beth Keeling and Simone Sliby pause before another trip down the mountain.

GYMNAESTRADA

It was an evening when finely-toned muscles and carefully orchestrated routines combined to test the law of gravity — the annual Gymnaestrada, held before packed audiences in the main gym Thursday and Friday, March 25 and 26, at 7:30 p.m., with Gene Lavanchy in his second year as the very capable Master of Ceremonies.

The show followed its usual format with dance routines as well as gymnastic samples, not only by girls who earlier in the year had contributed to the Gymnastic Team's second place in the Bay State League, but by other students who also had practiced many hours preparing for the show.

There were the usual favorites of the triple balance team with burly Mike MacKay shouldering Dana Stearns, who in turn shouldered Andrea D'Amadio (see below). Scott Young grimaced through the difficult "iron cross", a feat often scratched from the program because of unavailable talent. And then, of course, there was that mound of grunting, wheezing flesh piled mountain high as if inviting some ground-to-air missile to clear the peak.

The climax of the evening was the living tableaux when vignettes from the life of man were struck by guilded, human statues.

DONKEY BASKETBALL

Sponsored by the Baseball Team to raise money for new equipment and an end-of-season banquet, the March, 1982 version of the Walpole High School Donkey Basketball was a smashing success. Profits amounted to $600, and spectators enjoyed an exciting evening.

All participants in the first game were captains of spring sports; the winning team included: Gene Lavanchy, Karen Nixon, Ed Connor, Ellen Ridley, Rich Boyce, Carrie Cento, Jay Bortolussi, and Darra Slagle. The second game pitted a team of students picked by a raffle against a group of teachers — Mr. Droste, Ms. Fink, Ms. Swain, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton, Mr. Cady, and Mr. Gable. With Mr. Thornton dominating the offense and Mr. Gable outstanding on defense, their team won easily.

Before the last game between the winners of Game One and Game Two, a Musical Donkey Game was held. Finalists Jeanette Zarba and Chris DeRose were in a very close finish with Chris DeRose the eventual winner. Other participants were: Linda DiGiacomo, Liz Kelley, Ann Burke, Betsy Johnson, Kim Charlot, and Donna McCarthy.

In Game Three, the student team emerged victorious. Standouts for the championship team were: Gene Lavanchy, Jay Bortolussi, and Carrie Cento.

The question is, "Is the mule having as much fun as Miss Fink?"

Chris DeRose enjoys the ride while Mrs. Thornton tries a little motherly affection to move a determined donkey off dead center.

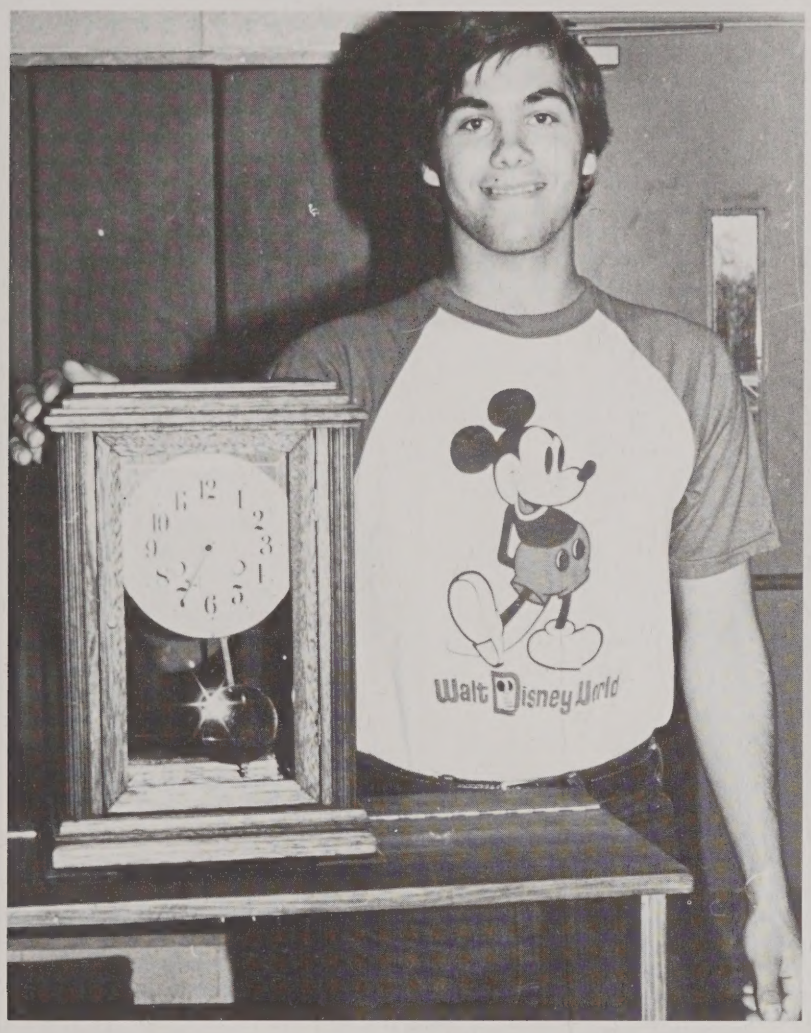
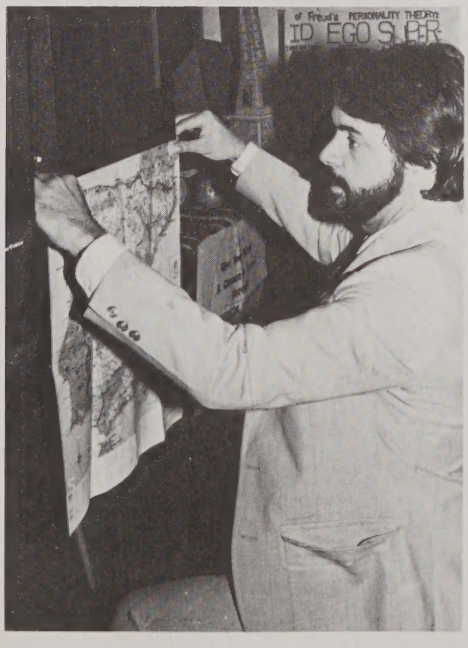
CLASSROOM PERFORMANCE AWARDS' NIGHT

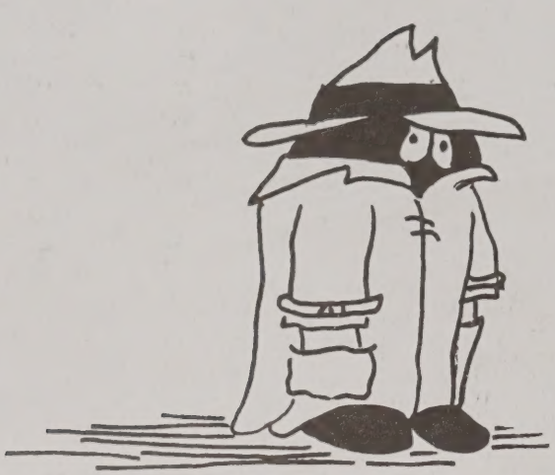
Lower Left: Mrs. Elinor Lind, Mathematics Department Chairman, demonstrates some of the computer equipment. Lower Right: Foreign Language Department Chairman, Mr. George Watson, prepares a display about Spain.





On the evening of Wednesday, May 26, Principal Lester Burch (above) welcomed parents, friends, and relatives to the first Walpole High School "Classroom Performance Awards' Night". Underclassmen were recognized by their teachers who had been asked to submit deserving names weeks before the presentation. As a result, Department Chairmen awarded 311 students "Certificates of Performance." Following the ceremony, the auditorium's overflow audience moved to the gymnasium to view exhibits of students' work that had been set up by each individual department.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY



Paul Brassil, Don Reardon, and Dana Stearns consider some exotic and lethal weapons for their next assignment.

Don Reardon and Joanna Capparella (Maxwell Smart and Agent 99) attempt to contact Agent 44 at his lookout post in a trash can.

"Get Smart", directed by Principal Lester Burch, was performed by the Class of 1982 on March 4 and 5, 1982, in the Walpole High School Auditorium. Set in Washington, D.C., this comedy was presented in two acts with scenes taking place in the University of Washington Control Headquarters, the Bus Station, and a Hotel Room. Heading the cast of this secret agent spoof were Don Reardon as undercover agent Maxwell Smart and Joanna Capparella as Agent 99.

The supporting cast: Agent 44, Mark Sokoloski; Agent 13, Roger Pelissier; Mr. Big, Ed Connor; Princess Ingrid, Karen McEachern; Garth, Bill Chase; Professor Zalinka, Kathy Moore; Professor Dante, Jim McDonagh; Chief, Paul Brassil; Miss Finch, Sarah Tullock; Jill, Lisa Colageo; May, Beth Varney; Ann, Lisa Foley; Laura, Janet Wigren; Hodgkins, Dana Stearns; Big Sister, Heidi Benson; Little Sister, Linda Connor; Man in Bus Station, David Cook; Woman in Bus Station, Lori Anderson; Voice, Michael Reynolds; Voice at Station, Jennifer Romans; Voice at Control, Scott Young; Mary Wong, Kathy O'Malley; Shirley Wong, Elinor Conroy; Betsy Wong, Janette Shea; college students - Carol Collins, Jeanette Zarba, Tracy Robertson, and Steve Ryan.

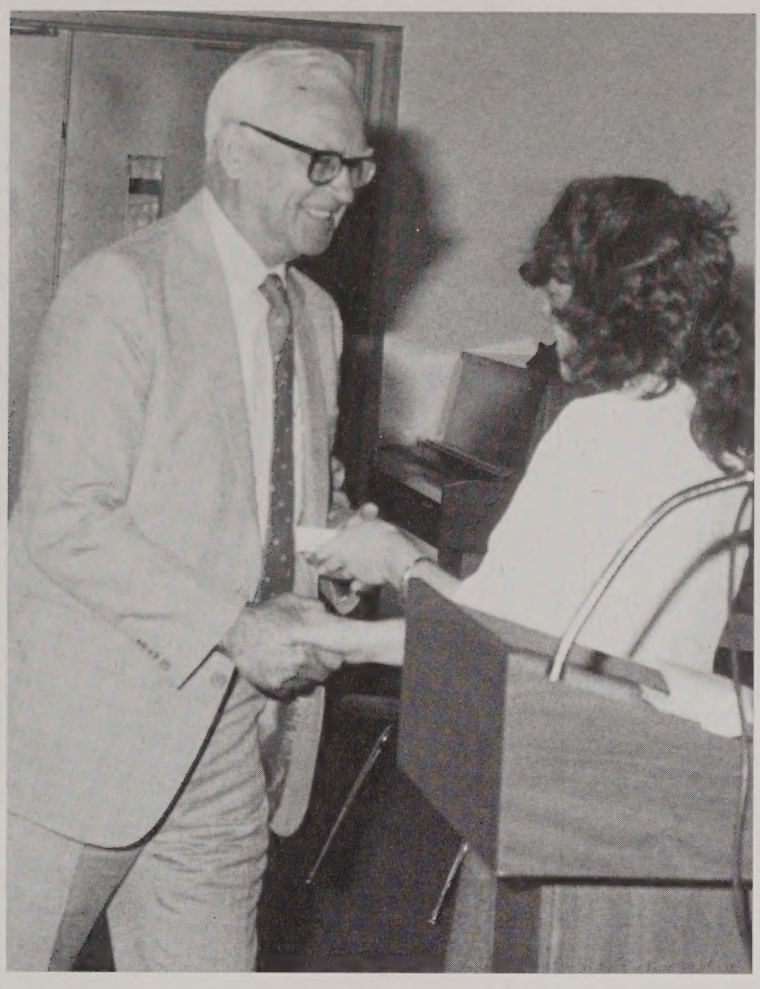
Chairmen of other crews were: Advertising - Mary Comeau; Costumes - Barbara O'Brien; Lighting - David Cook, Brian Lane; Make-up - Jody Kannally; Program - Eileen Walsh; Props - Patty Barry; Scenery - Brian Lane, Kathy Rooney; Sound Effects - Steve Foley; Tickets - Lisa Traeger; Ushers - Chris DeRose.

HALL OF FAME

About two years ago, Principal Lester Burch initiated a plan to recognize Walpole High School graduates who have been exceptionally successful in their chosen careers. A committee of both adults and students including Burch, Frank Calf, Carol Collins, Marion Kambour, Mildred Rockwood, Kathleen Rooney, Guy Silvi, Eleanor Sline, Sally Spicer, Aimee Storin, and Peter Turco developed criteria, sifted through old yearbooks, and advertised for possible candidates to the "Hall of Fame".

On April 3, 1982, the culmination of the committee's efforts took place in the Walpole High School Auditorium — a formal induction ceremony to honor the 35 "super" graduates. Brief biographical sketches of each nominee were read, revealing that their accomplishments ranged from the arts and humanities to sports and the military. Gold Medallions, designed by Sally Spicer (a member of the Class of 1982) were presented to the inductees and/or the friends or relatives of those deceased or unable to attend because of distance. Following the ceremony, refreshments were served in the cafeteria where citizens had the opportunity to talk with the Hall of Famers. Funding for the ceremony and awards was subsidized by private contributions.

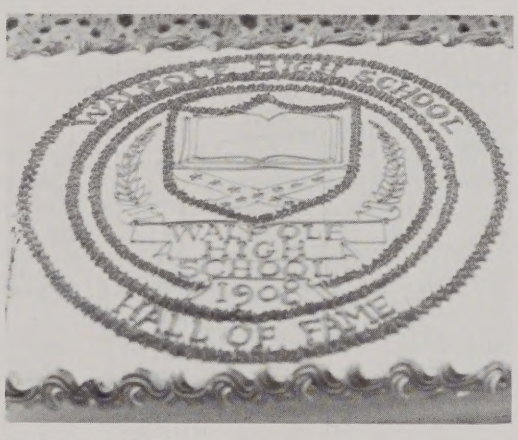
The Hall of Fame is perceived to be an ongoing event, with a few names added each year. As yet undetermined is a permanent home where memorabilia, cassettes of taped conversations, and a plaque with the names of inductees could be displayed for students and townspeople to view, providing students with excellent role models — graduates from their own high school.



Left: His two-year old dream now a reality, Principal Lester H. Burch talks enthusiastically with Mrs. Adolph Tokaz during the reception following the Hall of Fame ceremony.

Mrs. Cecile Marie Pepin Hyatt (left) receives her award from Miss Eleanor Sline, Hall of Fame Committee Member. Mrs. Hyatt, a 1934 graduate, a former elementary school teacher and children's librarian, is the author of many children's books and instructional materials for elementary school teaching.

Air Force Colonel, recipient of many military honors during his 25 year career. Right: The Hall of Fame seal, designed by Sally Spicer appearing on the cake prepared for the reception.



Marion Kambour, Hall of Fame Selection Committee Member, congratulates William Robert Mayhew on his induction into the Hall of Fame. Following a 22 year pastoral career in Massachusetts and Maine, this 1927 graduate began an association with Heifer Project International, where he eventually became Executive Director, providing food-producing animals and training in their care to needy families in the U. S. and overseas, ultimately receiving many citations for his battle against world hunger and poverty.

Recipients of awards look on during the Hall of Fame ceremony.

BLOODMOBILE

The sixth annual Walpole High School Bloodmobile, sponsored by the Student Council, took place on May 6, 1982. Students, teachers, and parents donated 72 pints of blood. Mr. Edwin Page, Walpole High School Industrial Arts teacher, was given a gold pin from the Red Cross for having given three gallons of blood over the past 12 years plus another gallon of blood given to Norwood Hospital over the same period of time.

PRE-GRADUATION

2

In the opening days of a new school year, Senior Class Adviser, Mr. Thomas Morris, informed the Senior Class of their responsibilities prior to graduation in June, 1982.

After greeting the class (1), his first task was to remind them of the importance of class dues (2). His second point of discussion was the Class Trip (3). The cost of the Yearbook was mentioned (4), followed by a general overview of graduation requirements (5). He then urged them to participate in all activities (6).

Due to his careful planning, the Senior Class Trip to the Frank Davis Resort in Moodus, Connecticut was so much fun that the yearbook photographer forgot to take pictures, but we did manage to publish the REBEL without them. Graduation required alternate plans because of rain, but that ceremony ran smoothly, and we do have pictures!!!!!

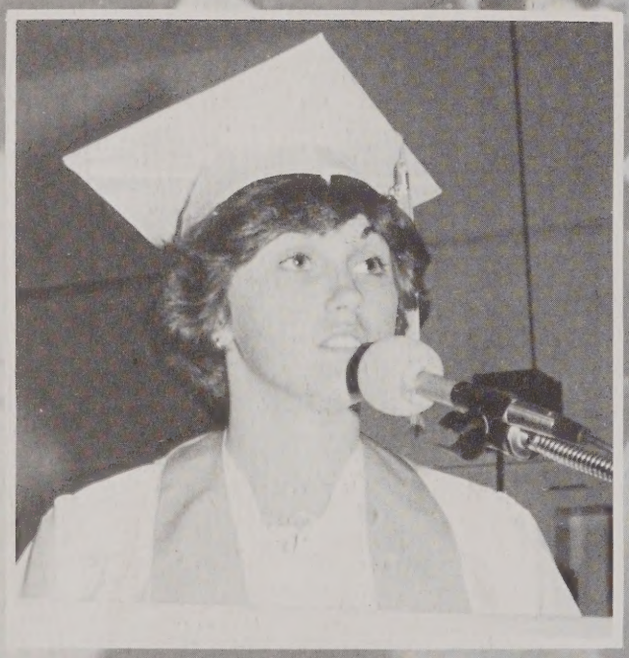
GRADUATION

Principal Lester Burch welcomes graduates and guests to Walpole High School Graduation 1982.



Valedictorian Caroline Cento

Salutatorian Vida Simonaitis

"Learn From Yesterday, Live For Today, Dream of Tomorrow" — the motto of the graduating Class of 1982 hung in the background as individual members of the class packed the gym and subconsciously lived out the words of the motto, casting off the ballasts of yesterday, cutting the ties of today, and rising to the dream of the future.

Having weathered 540 school days over a three-year period, they waited patiently as Salutatorian Vida Simonaitis reminisced about yesterday, mentioning incidents such as sitting in her English class at Plimpton School and remembering her third grade class held in that very same room, realizing how much she had learned. Caroline Cento, Valedictorian, urged students to grasp new experiences and to forget missed opportunities of the past.

As their classmates spoke, and as the scholarships were announced, dreamy-eyed graduates gradually came alive to today as they listened for their names being called to receive the validation of their achievement. Gripping their diplomas, with invited guests looking on, the past met the present as 307 men and women stepped from the platform into the future.

WE'VE ONLY JUST BEGUN

Before the rising sun we fly.
So many roads to choose,
We start out walking and learn to run.
And yes, we've just begun.

Sharing horizons that are new to us.
Watching the signs along the way.
We'll find a place where there's room to grow.
And yes, we've just begun.
